And Forty Badly Injured as the Result of a Frightful Boiler Explosion at Lebanon, Pennsylvania.

Lebanon, Pa., Nov. 14.—The explosion of a large boiler in scrap-puddle furnace No. 3 at the west works of the American Iron and Steel Manufacturing Company's plant late yesterday afternoon caused the death of eight workmen and about 40 others were more or less seriously injured.

The boilers exploded without warning and in an instant the entire place was black with death-dealing debris. The wreck of the nine immense puddle furnaces was complete. The wounded are in a pitiable condition. Some of them it is believed, cannot live through the night. Women and children thronged the entrance to the works, crying and begging to be allowed inside. The wounded, some minus eyes or hands, were taken to a hospital.

The exploded boiler was hurled high into the air and passed over the offices, burying itself in the south bank of Quittaphilla creek, several hundred yards away. The plant has been closed and workmen are removing the debris.

The cause of last evening's fatal boiler explosion is not definitely known but there is a report that the boiler was dry and that water had been injected when the accident occurred.

During the night four of the injured died, making a total of eight dead today. Others who are not expected to survive the day are John Hersley and Frank Dissinger. About a score of others are seriously hurt. The boiler landed five hundred yards away in Quittaphilla creek. Ten puddle furnaces are wrecked. Among the dead are J. Bricker, W. Turner, James Hissinger and Wm. Oakes.

COAL

Strike Commissioners Will Work Without Fear or Favor.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 14.—The coal strike commission met for the first judicial session this morning. The members say they will work without fear or favor and bring to light the causes of discontent in the coal fields. The miners will be heard first and they will produce over 75 witnesses.

President Mitchell in a long address presented the grievances of the miners. He said among other things:

"The work of the miner and the miner's laborer is extremely hazardous; more dangerous than employment in any other important industry in the world. Each day the anthracite coal mines are in operation, two persons lose their lives and three times as many are maimed, and yet these men receive less wages annually than are received by men performing precisely similar work in other fields under more favorable and less hazardous conditions."

Mitchell also demands that the operators shall make a ton of 2240 pounds to the miners instead of 2760 to 3000 pounds. The operators sell 2240 pounds of coal as a ton and get the benefit of the balance out of the miners at present.

BANK

Boston, Mass., Nov. 14.—The Central National Bank at 141 Devonshire street did not open its doors this morning. An excess of loans and slow paper are given as the causes leading up to the failure.

KILLS BROTHER

The Dayton, Ohio, Man Had Threatened the Lives of Brother and Also His Wife.

Dayton, O., Nov. 14.—Wm. Schweitzer, 30 years old and single and who has thrice been committed to the State Hospital for Epileptics, was shot and instantly killed by his younger brother, Henry, at the home of the latter. All that is known of the tragedy is contained in the statement of the brother, who after the commission of the crime went to a police station and told what he had done.

William had several times within the last week threatened to kill his brother Henry and the latter's wife. Wednesday night Henry, his wife and their child took refuge at the home of a brother-in-law.

Determined to end these attacks upon his home, Henry remained in the house yesterday.

According to Henry's story, William came to a screen door and announced: "I have come to get you and your wife."

Henry says he ordered his brother away, threatening to shoot. The latter paid no attention either to the demand or threat.

Nerved to desperation in fear for his own life and that of his wife, Henry fired three pistol shots in rapid succession, and the brother fell backward dead.

The fratricide was charged with murder. He is 22 years old.

DeMOTTE LECTURE

John B. DeMotte, the eminent lecturer, delighted an audience of 400 people at Taylor Hall Thursday night where he delivered his famous lecture on "The Harp of the Senses."

The lecture was illustrated by many experiments thrown upon a screen and explained in clear manner and choice language by the lecturer, proving that the brain is the Harp of the Senses, responding to impressions for good or evil made upon it in one's environment. The lecture had special reference to the secret of character building and was interesting, instructive and thoroughly enjoyable.

OHIO VOTE

WILL FALL SLIGHTLY UNDER $800,000.

All But Three Counties Have Been Heard From—Total Known Tomorrow.

The Advocate's Columbus correspondent wires the following this afternoon concerning the total vote of Ohio in which hundreds of Newark people are interested.

From an inside source the Advocate correspondent learns however that from the figures thus far received the indications are that the total vote will fall between 788,000 and $90,000."

LONG DRUNK

Diminutive Negro Boasts that He Has Had a Jag on For the Past 30 Years.

Washington, Nov. 14.—A man who, the police records of this city say, has been drunk for nearly 40 years was in the police court yesterday as a vagrant. The Judge sentenced him to pay a fine of $40, but as he had not that much money on his person he was sent to the workhouse.

The man who has had the long and glorious jag is Samuel Grey, a diminutive negro. When the policeman who arrested him told him he had better sober up Grey boasted that he had been drunk for more than 30 years and he would stay drunk as much longer if he lived and the supply of whisky held out. Grey acknowledged that this is what he had said. An examination of the records, made a little later, confirmed his statement.

President In South.

Smedes, Mississippi, Nov. 14.—Attired in his hunting suit, President Theodore Roosevelt arrived here at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and made a bee line for his hunting camp on the Little Sunflower River, about 15 miles away. Since the forests and swamps are impenetrable save on horse back, the authorities of this city have given orders to the livermen to let out no animal without a special permit. This step has been taken to assure privacy for the President and his party and to make it impossible for the curious to get within miles of the camp before the hunting season is over.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 14.—Federal Judge Waddell today sentenced and discharged Wm. Bain, aged 69, a paralytic veteran from the Hampton, Va. National Soldiers' Home, who impersonated a dead New York veteran and drew three fraudulent pensions. Bain served in both the Union and Confederate armies during the civil war, and was twice a deserter. The court held that he was too old to imprison.

English has been made a compulsory subject of study in Austrian schools.

TOO RIGID

Discipline in Newark Camp to Suit Some of the Boys of the Third Regiment.

Springfield, Nov. 14.—Major T. J. Kirkpatrick of the Third regiment, O. N. G., has returned from Mechanicsburg where he sat in court martial over 50 refractory members of the Mechanicburg company charged with mutinous conduct.

Some time ago members of the company registered a protest against their captain, J. S. Schaefer, who, is appearing in camp through the enforcement of a too rigid discipline.

The matter came to the official notice of the colonel of the regiment, who ordered a court-martial. The ringleader was sentenced to reduction in rank dishonorable discharge from the company and a fine of $10 was imposed. Major Kirkpatrick will forward his findings in the thirty-one cases heard to the colonel and the sentences are expected to be made public next week.

MATCHES

Are Dangerous In The Eyes of Greater New York.

New York, Nov. 14.—Parlor matches are dangerous in the eyes of the members of the municipal government and New York will know them no more after January 1 next. After that date no licenses for keeping, storing or having parlor matches within the limits of Greater New York will be issued. Fire Chief Croker says the ordinance will prevent the destruction of much property and save many lives.

COLLINS CASE

Charges Against Former Licking County Minister Not Sustained By Council--Granville Man Was a Member.

Lorain, O., Nov. 14.—At three o'clock yesterday afternoon the council appointed to investigate the charges against Rev. Charles L. Collins, of the Baptist church this city, formerly a student at Granville and pastor of the Licking Baptist church in Licking county, reported its findings. Collins was confined to his bed when the council sent word that he must come to the church. The first charge was falsehood. The verdict was: "We find no evidence which establishes the charge of falsehood."

Second—Undue attention to certain women of the church and congregation. The verdict: "We find that he is not guilty. Any undue attention as charged has not exceeded the duties of a faithful pastor."

The rest of the verdict was:

"Third—In regard to the charge of cruelty and harshness in the home on the part of Brother Collins we find that he was habitually kind and considerate to his wife and daughter, but that under provocation he used harsh and cruel language to his wife and daughter, Theo."

"Fourth—Regarding the charge of injustice on the part of Brother Collins toward his wife in causing a separation between them we find that which the public regards as the putting away of his wife was a mutual agreement for a temporary period to be effective for six months unless both parties consent to a shortening of the time and was not an attempt to obtain a divorce. In this we find no injustice toward Mrs. Collins, although there are reasonable grounds for a difference of opinion as to its wisdom or thoughtfulness. It should be distinctly understood that the council does not express an opinion concerning any separation which covers a period longer than six months as specified in the contract. In regard to the injustice toward his wife in not promptly refuting the article which appeared on October 10, which some people regarded as reflecting upon the moral character of Mrs. Collins, we find that on the urgent advice of disinterested friends, not to be drawn into controversy, he delayed the public denial. We do not think this should be considered an intentional injustice. Therefore, in view of all the evidence produced before this council we find nothing which, in our judgment, should affect the worthiness of Brother Collins to continue in the gospel of the ministry."

LEADS DUAL LIFE

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

Marion, Ind., Nov. 14.—Thomas Davis died at the National Soldiers' home Tuesday, and two women claiming to be the legal wives of the deceased attended the funeral with their two grown-up children.

It was then learned for the first time that Davis had lived a double life for over 25 years.

It was an affecting scene when the wives wept on each others' breasts while the children made friends with each other.

CHINESE

Minister Makes His Last Speech and Receives Farewell Message from Officials.

New York, Nov. 14.—Wu Ting Fang, the former Chinese minister, was the guest of honor of the Silk Association of America and the American Asiatic Association at a banquet given at Delmonico's last night. A telegram of regret was read from Secretary Hay, in which he said: "I should have been glad to bring my sincere tribute of regret. My constant association with him for years has given me a high appreciation of his great ability and his open-minded statesmanship."

President Roosevelt sent the following dispatch from Memphis: "Pray accept my best wishes for your association and convey to the Minister of China the assurances of high esteem and my appreciation of what he has done toward securing cordial understandings and good will between the two countries."

Responding to the toast, "The Health of the Guest of the Evening," the Chinese Minister said in part: "The United States and China are practically neighbors. So whatever takes place in China cannot be a matter of indifference to the people of the United States. When the Pacific cable is finished it will unite the old with the new nation."

"With your energy and enterprising spirit there is no reason why your trade with China should not surpass that which you have with Great Britain. The trade with China is only in its infancy. In course of time it will, I have no doubt, be extended to a great many other things. On the other hand China has got some goods to give you in return."

DARING ROBBERS AT WORK

==ONE LOSES HIS HEAD

Elyria, Nov. 14.—Following close on the Meach affair, Lorain county once more showed last night how to deal with burglars. Two thugs, names unknown, started in to loot this town. After ransacking three houses at the points of revolvers, they were tackled by Marshall Karhon, whom they shot in the hips. He may die.

J. E. Baird, one citizen whose house had been entered, picked up Karhon's gun when he fell and fired. He then chased the burglars to the home of W. J. Hillier. The burglars kicked in the door, Baird still firing. Hillier had a new shotgun loaded for small game. As the first burglar forced his way to his room he blazed away and shot the burglar's head off. The other robber turned and ran. Hillier let the second barrel go and wounded his man, who was able to get away, however, and is now at large. The identity of the robbers is unknown.

Organized Capital Against Organized Labor.
The answers of the coal companies to the complaints and demands made by President Mitchell on behalf of the miners are hostile and aggressive, and suggest serious difficulties in the way of reaching an agreement, should their presentation be accepted by the arbitrators. But this is not looked for. The arbitrators are to hear all sides, investigate conditions and examine witnesses, and all other evidence, and on this deliver their judgment. The cases presented by President Mitchell and the operators are very likely much exaggerated, because of the feeling created by the long strike, but it will be the duty of the arbitrators to reach the truth and sift the exaggerated claims on both sides. The hostility of the organized operators to any form of organized labor, unless it is of such form as the operators may determine, is apparent. The right of organization on both sides is at the bottom of the whole matter, and is the most difficult question the arbitrators will have to deal with, although not directly presented to them. It is the vital question.

Confession of the Goebel Murder
The report comes from Kentucky that Henry Youtsey, now serving a life sentence for the assassination of Governor Goebel, has made a full confession of the circumstances and conditions of that great crime, the parties participating in or approving of it, the money raised to pay the criminal and assassins, and who contributed to it. It is not at all improbable that such a statement has been made. The conspiracy was participated in by a good many Republican politicians of more or less prominence, and it is not likely that one or two who have been sentenced will be content to stand the brunt of the crime, while others, more guilty probably, go free. That is not in human nature. The confession, made at Frankfort, makes "Jim" Howard, now under life sentence, the actual murderer—the man who fired the shot—and "Governor" Taylor, the Indiana fugitive, having guilty knowledge, shown by confessions before and after with the conspirators who plotted, managed, directed and paid for the atrocious deed. It is no longer a matter of punishment. The truth should be known, if it can be discovered, for without doubt it was the most treacherous and diabolical crime of a political nature in American history.

Ohio Democrats' Next State Convention.
(Columbus Citizen)
Here is a solemn reflection of our esteemed contemporary, the Akron Democrat, inspired by recent events in this state in which an estimable clerical gentleman, a wealthy statesman and a red automobile conspicuously figured:
"There are a great many Democratic editors in Ohio who are unable to agree whether Mr. Johnson or Mr. McLean should have the floor at the next state convention. The votes of the rank and file of the party will settle the matter anyway."

Ohio Democrats' Next State Convention.
The following telegram from Philadelphia tells of the dismissal:
"Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—Five members of the University of Pennsylvania varsity football team were summarily dismissed from the practice on Thursday because of a lamentable lack of knowledge of the rudiments of the game.
The men sent from the field were Paulback Bennett, Quarterback Dale Right Guard Pickarski, Right End Metzgar and Left Halfback Weschler. High, ineffective tackling were the charges against Dale and Bennett; Pickarski, Metzgar and Weschler were accused of listlessness and dopy playing."
It was during the first ten minutes of the daily scrimmage between the varsity and the scrubs that the dismissal of the first team occurred. After holding the varsity for downs on the 30-yard line the scrubs rushed the ball straight down to the 10-yard line and an attempted drop-kick was blocked. The varsity could not gain and Bennett kicked to the 30-yard line. From there the scrubs again rushed the ball down the field and this time Kunkle scored a touch-down.
The wholesale dismissal of varsity players followed. Substitutes took their places and in the remaining half hour the reorganized varsity played like scrubs, scored three touchdowns, and never allowed the scrubs to get within striking distance of the goal line.
No good health with thin, impure blood. Walthers' Peptonized Port makes rich blood and good health.

FOOT BALL
..AND..
OTHER SPORTS.

A GREAT GAME AT GRANVILLE.
What promises to be one of the most exciting games of football ever played on an Ohio gridiron, will be that next Saturday between the Denison and Wooster teams on Beaver field, Granville tomorrow afternoon, the game being called at 2:30 o'clock.
A feature of the game will be a crowd of students and loyal Wooster supporters, who will accompany the team to Granville and encourage their favorites.

The Denison team is in good shape, and to a man are confident of winning the game. The Wooster eleven however is a strong one, and from their record appear to have at least an equal chance against the Granville boys.
Newark people can take the 1:35 car to Granville, returning leaving Granville at 4:37.

SATURDAY'S FOOTBALL GAMES.
The following schedule tells where Saturday's football games will be played:

- OHIO.
Denison vs. Wooster at Granville.
Ohio Medics vs. Shelby at Shelby.
Ohio State vs. Illinois at Columbus.
Ohio Wesleyan vs. Case at Cleveland.
Western Reserve vs. Kenyon at Gambier.
EASTERN.
Harvard vs. Dartmouth at Cambridge.
Yale vs. Princeton at Princeton.
Pennsylvania vs. Carlisle Indians at Philadelphia.
Cornell vs. Lafayette at Ithaca.
WESTERN.
Michigan vs. Chicago at Chicago.
Minnesota vs. Wisconsin at Minneapolis.
Nebraska vs. Knox at Lincoln.

CHANGES AT OHIO STATE.
Coach Hale has made some radical changes in the line of the O. S. U. eleven, which were made necessary by the lamentable at the ends.

Thrower has been transferred from center to end, and Elder will probably play the other end since Lincoln is making good at fullback. A guard will be selected from the scrubs as Fay will go in at center. The line up against Illinois Saturday will probably present these changes. The best O. S. U. supporters hope for is a close score, but we think even this is denied them.

BIG MEN IN BIG GAME.
Marshall of Harvard, 6 feet 4 inches, weight 214, will play left guard against Yale's right guard, Glass, 6 feet 5 inches, weight 211, Saturday, November 22. There should be something doing here.

WESLEYAN SHOULD WIN CHAMPIONSHIP.
About 300 Ohio Wesleyan students will go to Cleveland Saturday to cheer their team on to victory in the championship struggle against the Case eleven. It looks to us as if Ohio Wesleyan would beat the Scientific boys, and clinch the championship, as O. S. U. should be easy for the Methodists.

SENSATION AT PENNSYLVANIA.
One of the greatest sensations ever sprung by the athletic authorities of a big university was that at Philadelphia Thursday afternoon during football practice, when five varsity players were summarily "fired." The newly organized varsity will play Carlisle Indians tomorrow.

The following telegram from Philadelphia tells of the dismissal:

New Vanderbilt Racing Yacht.
Cornelius Vanderbilt, while he did but little in the yachting way last summer, has been seized with a yearning for international honors in this branch of sport and has placed with the Herreshoffs an order for the construction of a big racing yacht, which is to be ready next spring in sufficient time to enable him to take part in the yacht races at Kiel, at Cowes and in the Mediterranean. In one word, Cornelius Vanderbilt aims at becoming known as the representative American yachtsman abroad. The fact that he is the brother-in-law of Sir Michael Herbert, the new British ambassador at Washington, will stand him in good stead with the royal yacht squadron at Cowes, while his wife's entertainment of Prince Henry when the latter was in this country will assure him of a warm welcome at Kiel.

King, the Cricket Champion.
J. B. King, cricketer for himself, the title of champion all around cricketer of America during the past season. His record with both bat and ball this season has been remarkable. He stands at the head of both the batting and bowling averages of the championship series of games for the Halifax cup, the trophy emblematic of the championship of Philadelphia.
His record with the bat is 42.64 for fifteen innings, with an aggregate of 597 runs, while he has captured sixty-nine wickets at an average cost of 10.20 runs per wicket. He has scored double figures every time he has been at the wickets this season except once, while the occasion when he has failed with the ball have been rare indeed.

Keene on Turf Gambling.
James R. Keene, vice chairman of the Jockey club, declares that, in his opinion, there is too much gambling and too little sentiment in connection with racing in America. In heavy speculation on horses, he says, there is a menace to the best interests of the turf and that race courses should be places of recreation and not seething caldrons of money mad gamblers. Horse racing should be a sport and not a business.

As to Hockey Amateurs.
The Canadian A. A. U. is dissatisfied with the way in which the Amateur Hockey league of this country is conducting this sport. The Canadians insist that the Americans are constantly importing their best players, and they desire that the A. A. U. take charge of hockey in order that Canada may have the use of her own players.

Kaiser's New Schooner.
The Yachtsman of London states that Emperor William contemplates commissioning the Herreshoffs to build him a fast schooner, as he is dissatisfied with the performances of Meteor III, and that Herr Watkins is likely to take a similar ship when he disposes of the yawl Navarino.

Mascagni Stopped the Train.
In illustrating Composer Mascagni's idiosyncrasies his manager told how he brought a fast train to a sudden stop just outside of M. Atreval recently. The express was running at high speed when Mascagni pulled the emergency cord, and the cars stopped so quickly that the passengers were thrown from their seats. The maestro later explained to the train conductor that he was not in the habit of riding so fast and didn't like it. "Go slower," he commanded. "I want to die in my own country and not in your terrible America."

A Boston Box Novelty.
The new Boston box of the season is a football. It is a small affair, the color of a football. The top of the cover has a football scene, a player kicking the ball, the player in the scene being a silk and flying out from the top of the box. These presents are in different colors for the different colleges.

A LURKING DANGER!

DANGER

Lurks in every ache of the back. Don't be deceived by BACKACHE. Don't mistake its meaning. Don't fail to realize the serious side of a "BAD BACK."

The pains and aches of a "bad back" are many and varied—Sharp Stitches—Severe Twinges—Acute Twinges of Pain—Slow Exhaustive Aches. The back is tired, is lame and weak.

The "danger in it" comes from the kidneys, for most backache pains are but kidney ills. Backache tells of a kidney blockade. The delicate little kidney filters are clogged and warn you through the back. Go to the assistance of the kidneys when they "cry for help." Don't experiment—TAKE

Doan's Kidney Pills

DANGER

Is near at hand when the kidneys are sick. The urinary discharges tell the kidneys' condition. "A brickdust" like deposit in the urine, or when too highly colored, too frequent in passage, irregular in any way, neglect is serious.

Disorders of the kidneys and bladder call for prompt attention. The early symptoms are but forerunners of dangerous diabetes, hard to shake off—dropsy, which makes an invalid to the most vigorous constitution—Bright's disease, dread destroyer, incurable in advance stages.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS ACT QUICKLY—CURE QUICKLY. DON'T WAIT UNTIL TOO LATE.

NEWARK PROOF

Chestnut Street.

J. W. Lippincott, No. 83 Chestnut street, says: "I was troubled a good deal with rheumatism and a pain right through my back more like the thrust of a knife than anything else I can compare it to. I started using Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at Crayton's Drug Store. Their effect was really wonderful. They drove away the pain out of both of my sides, there was not a trace of it left. I could stoop at will, lift weight, yet feel as supple as ever I felt."

Spencer Street.

Mrs. George Graff of 25 Spencer street, says: "I had a terrible bad back which successfully resisted all efforts in the way of medicines and porous plasters to relieve it. It was just across the loins where the greatest strain falls, so that I could not get up when I was down. I awakened in the morning scarcely able to shift my body. As I moved about at my household work I was often in actual torture. For three months I suffered all the time until one day a neighbor gave me a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills. I took them and the benefit was so apparent I sent down to Crayton's drug store and procured a box. Before very long I discarded the plasters, the kidney secretions looked clear and natural and I had not a pain in my head and back."

Coshocton, Ohio, Nov. 14—Stewart Hayes, a wealthy farmer, who does not trust banks, burned his money and did not even see it smoke.

Keep the Cold Out

Too much cold outside is quite apt to mean a cold inside the chest. And the most colds are not taken in extreme temperatures, but when the weather suddenly changes—something it is apt to do often about now. Fall colds of ten mean winter-long coughs and permanent lung or bronchial trouble. The best defense for those who take cold easily is a good chamomile vest or chest protector. We have the good kinds. The cheapest are good, the best are better. Our prices are reasonable on all. Drop in and see them.

AN EASY WAY.

To Keep Well.

It is easy to keep well if we would only observe each day a few simple rules of health.

The all important thing is to keep the stomach right and to do this is not necessary to diet or to follow a set rule or bill of fare. Such pampering simply makes capricious appetite and a feeling that certain favorite articles of food must be avoided.

Prof. Wiechold gives pretty good advice on this subject; he says: "I am 68 years old and have never had a serious illness, and at the same time my life has been largely an indoor one, but I early discovered that the way to keep healthy was to keep a healthy stomach, not by eating bran crackers or dieting of any sort; on the contrary I always eat what my appetite craves, but daily for the past eight years I have made it a practice to take one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal and I attribute my robust health for a man of my age to the regular daily use of Stuart's Tablets."

My physician first advised me to use them because he said they were perfectly harmless and were not a secret patent medicine, but containing only the natural digestives, pepsins and diastase, and after using them a few weeks I have never ceased to thank him for his advice.

I honestly believe the habit of taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals is the real health habit, because their use brings health to the sick and ailing and preserves health to the well and strong."

Men and women past fifty years of age need a safe digestive after meals to insure a perfect digestion and to ward off disease, and the safest, best known and most widely used is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

They are found in every well regulated household from Maine to California and in Great Britain and Australia are rapidly pushing their way into popular favor.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, full sized pkgs. at 50 cents, and for a weak stomach a fifty cent package will do fifty dollars worth of good.

OHIO GUARD

INSIGNIA OF GUARDSMEN'S CAPS TO BE CHANGED.

Reports to Adjutant General Show the Strength of the Different Commands of the State.

Colonel Harry M. Taylor, assistant adjutant general has been working for some time on a new insignia for the caps and collars of the officers and soldiers of the Ohio National Guard.

The caps have borne the regulation device of the United States army and the collars have had on them the word "Ohio."

This will be changed so that the coat of arms of the state will be embroidered upon the front of the caps and the single word on the coat collar will be replaced by a miniature duplicate of the cap insignia.

Adjutant General Gyger has received reports from all of the commands of the National Guard and gives the following as its strength at the close of the present year:

FOREIGN

Nations Will Not Dicker With the Cubans—Gen. Bliss Leaves for Havana.

Washington, Nov. 14.—General Tasker H. Bliss will sail for Cuba Saturday if he can secure steamship accommodations. If not he will go by way of Tampa and reach Havana early next week. It is the intention of those interested in the commercial treaty with Cuba to have it ready, if possible, in three weeks, and General Bliss will endeavor to adjust the differences by that time. It is considered important to have the treaty sent to the Senate before the holiday recess. There is some talk that Cuba may test the effectiveness of the Platt amendment by entering into negotiations with other countries regarding trade relations.

The position which our Government holds in Cuba and our relations with the leading foreign nations at the present time are such that it is believed none of the Governments would care to make any treaty with Cuba which was not sanctioned by the United States. The negotiations with Cuba might be brought to a satisfactory conclusion should it appear that the representatives of foreign Governments at Havana had been instructed not to enter into negotiations until a treaty had been concluded with the United States. It is scarcely expected that such instructions can be obtained. It is the desire of this Government to leave the negotiations, should they fail, in such shape that it will not appear that an attempt has been made to extort from Cuba more than the United States was willing to give.

A commercial treaty will be necessary to establish Cuba on such a basis that she can float the proposed loan. With all negotiations hung up and strained relations existing between the old and new republics it is believed that there would be difficulty in selling the bonds of Cuba. At the same time this Government does not wish to appear in the attitude of holding this particular club over the Cuban government.

Down in the Coosa River Lies McClauskey's Body, According to a Letter.

Canton, O., Nov. 14.—McClauskey, a Canton stonemason, mysteriously disappeared some months ago. The first news of his whereabouts has come in the following letter, which was found in a tightly corked bottle, floating on the Coosa River, near Leesburg, Ala. The finder was W. J. McGinniss of that city, who promptly forwarded the letter to the Mayor of Canton. It reads as follows:

"To my Unknown Friend: Have tried Keeley's cure for habitual drunkenness, but met with no success. Losing hope for recovery and successful life, and, having no one to care for me, I am desperate. In 10 minutes I shall go to a watery grave, with a 120-pound weight to my neck, near Coosa, Ga., Sept. 14, 1902. Don't look for my relatives; they don't give a d— for a degenerate like me. My home is in Canton, Ohio, but I was born in Russia. I left Canton six weeks ago; am a stonemason by trade. Good-by. May you have better luck.

FRANCO McCCLAUSKEY." Relatives of McClauskey believe believe that he has actually taken his own life, and propose to make a search for the body.

"The Old Homestead."

Messrs. Charles and Edward Sealer, the hustling and popular proprietors of the "Old Homestead" restaurant, on West Main street, have made some very desirable improvements in their dining hall. The entire hall has been newly papered and painted and now presents a beautiful and attractive appearance. A new gas stove has been placed in the room, the old screen has been removed and a lighter one has been put in its place and handsome new curtains have been placed in the windows. Altogether the room has been completely remodeled and presents a very handsome appearance. Regular meals will be served at all hours at the very moderate price of 25 cents, and as everybody knows, the cuisine of the "Old Homestead" is unsurpassed. 11-14-3t

STAYED AWAY

TWELVE YEARS BUT MYSTEROUSLY RETURNED.

Columbus Man Didn't Go Home Upon His Return, but Came Over to Newark.

A Columbus dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer Friday follows:

Christ Gording, who mysteriously disappeared from his home in Columbus 12 years ago, has mysteriously reappeared Thursday. He was a brewery worker, and one day, after going to his labor, did not return. The police were notified, and a few days afterward a body was identified as that of Gording. Funeral services were held, the Odd Fellows, of which he had been a member, paid to the family weekly benefits. A year or so ago Mike Killian, who was with Sells Bros. circus, met Gording in Boston. Killian reported the matter here and the Odd Fellows cut off their weekly payments to Mrs. Gording. She refused to believe that her husband was alive.

Gording called at Breitling's saloon Thursday and expressed sorrow over his actions. He did not go near his home, but went to Newark, Ohio, where his brother-in-law, a Mr. Engle, conducts a brewery.

The Mr. Engle mentioned in the foregoing dispatch cannot be found here. It is believed a mistake in names has been made.

THE BATTLE OF BLENHEIM

By Robert Southey

THE battle of Blenheim in Bavaria was fought Aug. 13, 1704, between the troops of the English and Austrians on one side under the Duke of Marlborough and Prince Eugene, and the French and Bavarians on the other side, led by Marshal Tallard and the elector of Bavaria. The latter party was defeated.

It was a summer evening—
Old Kaspar's work was done,
And he before his cottage door
Was sitting in the sun;
And by him sported on the green
His little grandchild, Wilhelmine.

"My father lived at Blenheim then,
You little stream hard by;
They burnt his dwelling to the ground,
And he was forced to fly;
So with his wife and child he fled,
Nor had he where to rest his head.

"With fire and sword the country round
Was wasted far and wide;
And many a childing mother there,
And new-born baby died;
But things like that, you know, must be
At every famous victory.

"They say it was a shocking sight
After the field was won—
For many thousand bodies here
Lay rotting in the sun;
But things like that, you know, must be
After a famous victory.

"Great praise the Duke of Marlborough won,
And our good Prince Eugene."
"Why, 'twas a very wicked thing!"
Said little Wilhelmine.
"Nay, nay, my little girl!" quoth he,
"It was a famous victory."

"And everybody praised the duke
Who this great fight did win."
"But what good came of it at last?"
Quoth little Peterkin.
"Why, that I cannot tell," said he;
"But 'twas a famous victory."

AT THE CHURCH GATE

By William Makepeace Thackeray

WILLIAM MAKEPEACE THACKERAY, novelist, poet and critic, was born at Calcutta, India, July 13, 1811, and died in London, Dec. 24, 1863. He was brought up and educated in England. His novels, principal among them being "Vanity Fair," "Henry Esmond," "Pendennis," "The Virginians," etc., are numbered among the best in the English language. Thackeray lectured in the United States in 1852-53 and 1854-55. His poems are chiefly satirical and humorous in character.

ALTHOUGH I enter not,
Yet round about the spot
Ofttimes I hover;
And near the sacred gate,
With longing eyes I wait,
Expectant of her.

The minister bell tolls out
Above the city's rout
And noise and humming;
They've hushed the minister bell:
The organ 'gins to swell;
She's coming, coming!

My lady comes at last,
Timid and stepping fast,
And hastening hither,
With modest eyes downcast;
She comes—she's here, she's past!
May Heaven go with her!

Kneel undisturbed, fair saint!
Pour out your praise or plaint
Meekly and duly;
I will not enter there,
To sully your pure prayer
With thoughts untruly.

But suffer me to pace
Round the forbidden place,
Lingering a minute,
Like outcast spirits, who wait,
And see, through heaven's gate,
Angels within it.

THE RAILWAYS

THE PENNSY MAKES ANOTHER ANNOUNCEMENT.

Advances Will Cost the Road Millions—The Day's Railway News. Local and General.

Pittsburg, Nov. 14.—The Pennsylvania company today announces that it had raised the wages on its lines west of Pittsburgh ten per cent, the same as it did on the lines east yesterday to all getting less than $200 per month. These advances will cost the road $11,000,000 a year.

Western Union to Fight.
Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—The Western Union Telegraph Company is preparing to take legal action against the Pennsylvania. It is said that the action will be based on post roads rights. H. D. Esterbrook, counsel of the Western Union, and Superintendent J. P. Altberger visited the legal department of the Pennsylvania road yesterday. It is said that the Western Union men stated their errand to the railroad's lawyers very forcibly.

B. & O. Round House.
The B. & O. broke ground yesterday at New Castle, Pa., for a $50,000 round house.

Big Pay Roll.
Harrisburg, Nov. 14.—All records for a month's pay in this city were broken by the Pennsylvania railroad this week, when upwards of $500,000 was paid out. To the employees of the motive power department of the Middle division $152,447.28 was paid and to the employees of the transportation department $132,000. The balance was distributed among the employees of the other departments and those employed on the Philadelphia division residing in this city. In addition the bonus contractors in charge of the big railroad improvements paid out in round numbers upwards of $100,000.

The announcement of a ten per cent increase to all Pennsylvania employees brought much joy to the army of railroaders in this city and means from $65,000 to $80,000 increase in the amount paid out in this city monthly.

A Little Engine Trouble.
Engine 1912 has been giving a little trouble for a few days, and Assistant Road Foreman Robinette was delegated to locate the cause. He found that there was no fault to be charged to the engine, and much to the surprise and gratification of his many friends he has developed an abnormal bump of poetic ability in the following report of the condition of the 1912. The first report was sent by telegraph from Utica and the latter from Butler. It is to be hoped that Mr. Robinette will soon retire from his arduous duties on the "hominous pounders" and give the community the benefit of his newly discovered talent in a charming poem on "Spring," that being the usual outpouring of the poet's first effort:

O. R. and W. Road.
Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 14.—Articles of incorporation of the Ohio River and Western railway company were filed in the office of the secretary of state today. The road reorganized is what is now known as the Bellaire, Zanesville & Cincinnati road. It is in the hands of a receiver and the bondholders and creditors have agreed upon a reorganization. S. L. Mooney is president of the new company, the capital stock of which is $1,200,000.

WON PRIZE.
Henry Hess of Dennison, Supervisor of Tracks on the Pan Handle between Dennison and Columbus, was in the city today receiving the congratulations of his friends on having been awarded the $100 prize awarded by the Pennsylvania company for having the best division on the road. In a contest between the supervisors on the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago and the P. C. & St. L. divisions for the best track, the committee appointed by the company, after a careful and thorough inspection, awarded the honor to Mr. Hess. The $50 prize for the best tract under Section Foreman on sub-division No. 4 was awarded to J. Goette, foreman of the Port Washington section.

ASK A LEASE.
The Ohio Midland railway, a branch of the B. & O. south of Newark, has applied to the canal commission for a lease of 5,480 feet of ground occupied by its tracks along the bank of the Licking reservoir in Licking and Perry counties. The company took possession of the land years ago and applied for a lease only because suit was brought by the canal commission to oust it from the strip.—Columbus Citizen.

plled for a lease only because suit was brought by the canal commission to oust it from the strip.—Columbus Citizen.

Utica, O., Nov. 13.
Jas. Dennison, Road Foreman of Engines:
Our coal is fine,
Caboose way behind;
Steam has not varied,
So we are not worried,
And will pound away
The rest of the day.

Condition of Engine 1912.
Mr. James Dennison, R. F. of E., Newark, Ohio:
Valves are square,
Shoots exhaust straight into the air;
Pins, boxes running cool;
Does not seem to have been in the pool.
She will run like a deer;
She will make lots of money
For her Dutch engineer.
But one fault I must find,
She throws the sparks of fine coal
Too far behind.
It is sometimes necessary to coal from a gond.
And this often finds the fireman out—done!
He shovels and shovels all day,
And when night comes he feels like taking some hay.
—Shakespeare.

Local Railway Notes.
Brakeman W. M. Ankey of the C. O. division has been given a leave of absence until December 10.

Rickrich-Bolin.

The wedding of Mr. Geo. W. Rickrich of this city and Miss Emma P. Bolin of Zanesville, is noted in another column. The following guests from this city were present:

Mrs. Anna Rickrich, the groom's mother, Miss Katherine Rickrich, his sister; Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Graff, Mr. A. E. Crammer, Mr. G. A. Bolin, Mrs. Sophia E. Vandenberg, Miss Georgie Vandenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bolin, Mr. Wilfred Bolin, and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Smith.

The Zanesville Signal in an extended account of the wedding says in part: Rev. C. E. Chandler performed the ceremony, the ring service being used. Mrs. O. C. Bolin played a pretty march as the bride and groom entered, preceded by little Helen Bolin, the bride's sister, and Ruth Bolin, her cousin, who formed a path for the bride and groom by strewn flowers.

The bride wore a becoming gown of blue foulard silk and carried pink roses. The little flower girls wore dainty white gowns.

The bride is a charming young woman whose amiable disposition has won her friends in many circles. She will be greatly missed in the circles in which she moves in this city. Mr. Rickrich, whose home is in Newark, is well known in this city where he has frequently visited. He is a clerk in the B. & O. shops in Newark and is a valued employee of the company. He is a young man of sterling qualities and is popular with hosts of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Rickrich went to Newark Thursday where they will go to housekeeping.

REDS AND YELLOWS.

Organizations of Union and Scab Coal Miners in France.

Sterling Hellig, special correspondent from Valenciennes, France, under date of Oct. 16, says:

Here, in the midst of the great general strike of the coal miners of all France, I have just seen 150 "scab" or "yellow" men returning from their work in one pit while 500 strikers howled out threats and curses at them. This was all they did, for each "scab" was protected by three soldiers, who accompanied them in groups to their homes in the nearby villages of Haveluy and Wallers.

The same night the strikers' "patrols" passed through Haveluy and Wallers. There were no soldiers present to protect the "scabs"—or, as I shall call them henceforth, "yellows"—in their houses. The patrols cried out their principles, cursed all false brothers and heaved broken bricks and stones and clods of dirt through "yellow" windows.

Behind these windows a strange sight might have been seen had not the cottages been darkened. Each was barricaded and contained a little garrison of six or eight determined "yellows" armed with remodeled army rifles and revolvers. When the strikers' patrol had passed, they slept, to be fresh for their work next morning. The coal companies allow them for the sleeping time they may thus lose protecting themselves and the rights of individuals to work at will.

Valenciennes, like Haveluy and Wallers and all the towns of this region, is placarded with announcements of two very different characters. These are the strikers' proclamations and the proclamations of the "yellows."

These proclamations and the facts that stand behind them show a very strange development of the great general strike that has been so much threatened and feared in France for two years past. Here we are, at last, in the midst of it. Yet the coal company of Auzin, for example, where the strike is supposed to be typically successful, reports 2,283 "yellow" workers to 8,338 strikers. In other mines the proportion of "yellows" is still greater. From the Pas de Calais region and from the mines of central France the same news comes—the "yellows" are well organized and armed, their central syndicate in Paris is as active as that of the strikers, and new recruits ready to work hasten to enroll themselves from out the unemployed of every section.

This is the latest phase of the great labor union question in the land of France, the land of new ideas, where things originate and are tried for the rest of the world. "Yellowism" may come to solve or complicate, with bloody strife, the already complicated labor union problem. "Yellowism" means the organization of all "scabs"—that is, independent individual workers—against the labor unions of a country.

In both the coal regions of the north and the center of France the "yellows" are particularly strong. Here around about Valenciennes their "syndicates," or local unions, are as highly organized as are those of the striking labor unions. They are directed by energetic men, who have not feared to placard the whole region with proclamations and arguments against the general strike and urging the miners to employ force if necessary to assert their right to labor at their individual pleasure. In Valenciennes they have a weekly paper devoted to their cause, and it is said to have a paid circulation of 6,000 copies weekly.

Moreover, as the news now runs, delegates from this region to a congress of "yellows" held in Paris have returned, bringing with them arms with which to resist the strikers should the soldiers, for political or other reasons, be called from their protection or prove insufficient. With regard to this latter possibility an expression from the lips of M. Bexant, local secretary of the strikers' federation, is now running through Valenciennes and has been telegraphed to Paris. Questioned about the danger of bloodshed should the strikers meet the troops, he said publicly:

"We fear nothing."
"Nevertheless," replied his questioner, "the situation may become grave. The troops were obliged to charge again yesterday."
"I think that the soldiers will not do us any harm," said the local secretary of the strikers significantly. "If they do, they will oblige us to do harm to them."

Meanwhile we are assured by a reactionary paper, devoted to the interests of the "yellows," that the delegates of the north to the recent congress of "yellows" brought back with them from Paris 600 army revolvers and 45,000 cartridges.

Want Recognition.

The National Association of Steam and Hot Water Fitters and Helpers is out with a letter to organized labor generally, calling attention to the claims of that organization for recognition which are denied by the United Association of Plumbers, Gas Fitters, Steam Fitters and Steam Fitters' Helpers. The national association claims in this letter that it is at least a year older than the United association and that its members are good, sound union men. A request is made that labor organizations generally give them the same recognition allowed the United association, with admission to central labor bodies and other privileges. The national association is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and with the National Building Trades Council.

LABOR'S LEADERS.

OFFICIAL HEADS OF UNIONS AND WALKING DELEGATES.

Honest Men and Good Citizens Who Have Been Misunderstood—There is a Better Feeling Now Than There Was Twenty Years Ago.

The gentleman who has occasioned the enemies of trades unions incalculable annoyance and anguish is the walking delegate. All the world has heard of him, and a small part of it has met him. The funny papers and some papers that are not so funny picture the walking delegate as a coarse featured, over-dressed fellow who wears a big diamond in a pink shirt, smokes big black cigars and rides in a laughtymobile. According to these chroniclers, the sole business of the walking delegate is to stir up trouble between employer and employee and to live on the fat of the land at the expense of his dupes. With a swagger he approaches a gang of workmen, pushes him back on his head, expropriates half a pint of tobacco juice, makes a half circle sweep with a big red hand and shouts: "Git out of this, youse fellows! This job is struck!"

The picture is overdrawn, say you? Well, the one I present isn't original. It's a copy after the Sir Joshua of capitalist pressdom.

Now let me tell you the sober truth about the walking delegate, or the business agent, as his proper title is. (He was nicknamed the walking delegate because he has slight allowances for car fare and has to walk many miles in the performance of his duties, notwithstanding the "laughtymobile" story.)

The business agent is an official of building trades organizations, I may say, almost exclusively. These trades, especially in the large cities, found him a necessity. Their men are scattered over a large territory, and there are so many of them that it is impossible to get them all out to all of the meetings of the union. So the business agent goes around from job to job, collects dues and assessments, serves notices and performs other duties assigned to him under the constitution of his union. His hours of work are generally from two to six more each day than those of the men working at the trade. He must be intelligent, thoroughly informed on craft matters and courteous. He must be honest and temperate, for he handles a great deal of money, and his responsible duties call for a clear head all the time. And this man receives from his union generally only the rate of wages paid in the trade. And the union is not an easy boss (I should say bosses). One serious misstep and the unlucky walking delegate is called up before a court that deals out even and exact justice, which is full of mercy and compassion for an erring or unfortunate brother, but weighs the official's acts without sugaring the scales.

But how about the strikes ordered by the walking delegate? He orders them just about as the clerk of the house of representatives passes a bill—he announces the result of a ballot. The official boards of trades unions rarely order strikes, walking delegates never. It is generally the rule for the members of the union (and sometimes those members only who are directly concerned) to vote upon a motion to call a strike, and in most unions a two-thirds vote is necessary to carry. A course once decided upon, the officials of the organization become its executive representatives, and in this connection the walking delegate has certain duties to perform.

No man makes greater sacrifices for the cause to which he is pledged than the walking delegate. His labors are not only arduous and unceasing, but in many cases he is blacklisted by employers, and when he is supplanted for any reason by another member of his union he must go among strangers to secure employment and often is compelled to abandon his trade and go into anything that offers him work. He is one of the most thoroughly misrepresented and unjustly treated men, and recognition of his worth and services to humanity will come, as it generally has come to those who have occupied the dangerous positions in every war for the elevation of mankind, long after the mortal casket of his brave and loyal soul has returned to dust.

To some extent what I have written of the walking delegate may also be said of those in higher official positions in the labor unions. But it is only fair to the more liberal spirit of recent years to say that the labor leader is not now universally condemned and slandered as he was a few years ago.

There was a time not long ago when to be the spokesman or leader of a trade union was to be ostracized socially by all but the unionists. The officials of labor organizations were misrepresented and persecuted. The father of lies never found so much work for his offspring as in that period covered by the fifteen years immediately subsequent to 1880, when the labor movement in America was struggling against as great odds as ever confronted any crusade in the cause of justice and truth, and it is that period which I now have in mind. Not contented with deceiving the public as to the character and conduct of the labor officials, the eloquent tools of Mammon who served with pen and rest from endeavor to the best means to destroy the confidence of the laboring men themselves in their chosen leaders. Selfish and unselfish motives were charged, so that confidence was manufactured and put forth and conspiracies were hatched, all that in the greatest contest for human rights the world has ever known the seeds of discord and destruction might be sown. Thugs were in some instances hired to commit acts of physical violence upon the men holding responsible places in the unions, and there have been times when the position of the labor leader was as full of danger as the firing line at Gettysburg. You may say this is an exaggeration, due to the enthusiasm of an advocate. But I tell you it is a part of the history of the labor movement and that I have not read and been told these things, but that I have seen them and lived them. Happily those strenuous times have passed; gone, I hope, never to return. The labor leader of today has many friends, some of them powerful in other than labor circles, and he is able to stand before the world and defend the faith that is in him. But it seems to me not amiss at this time to say a word for the leaders who were in the forefront of labor's battles in the times when the "labor problem" was frequently called the "labor war." Many of those warriors who struggled, sacrificed and suffered in the struggle for human rights have crossed the dark river which marks the unknown shore. Others, still in the harness, have lived to see the labor movement become "respectable" and to find the duties of leadership not quite so difficult as in the days of yore.

I do not claim absolute perfection for all the champions of labor. Some, it is true, have fallen by the wayside, just as some of the world's greatest statesmen, merchants and divines have been too weak to stand the supreme test when it came to them. But I do assert that in no other walk of life has there been so near an approach to universal fidelity to principles and trusts as is shown by the record of the labor movement in America.

There are several labor union treasurers for each bank cashier in the United States, and yet the records show that for each dishonest custodian of union funds there have been a dozen embezzling bank cashiers. How many names of labor leaders have you ever seen published in connection with divorce court proceedings? They leave that field to the class which considers them inferiors.

Without a doubt the labor leader is fully entitled to the respect and consideration he is winning today because of his principles and his personality. He is honest and intelligent; he is loyal and courageous; he is a patriot in the highest meaning of that term. The majority of labor leaders are as nearly unselfish as it is possible for humans to be. They believe in the brotherhood of man and want to serve humanity. They would guard the home, believing that "home is the best interpreter of heaven," by making it unnecessary for women and children to toil in mine, mill and factory.

The labor leader has his faults—so have we all of us—but in the work he has been selected by his associates to perform he is entitled to the support and sympathy of every lover of justice. Personally as a general thing he can stand alone, but in his efforts to improve the condition of the toiler he welcomes aid no matter from whence it comes.

JOS. R. BUCHANAN.

Poor Old "Divine Right."

It is particularly the opportunity of the operators to set their house in order, to correct obvious abuses and to so manage their business that if they should have to face a similar crisis they may have full claim to public support. The most loyal and able supporters of the operators for the past months could hardly disagree that their case has been well conducted. From the beginning they were most unfortunate in their spokesman. President Baer's pious cant about the divine right of himself and his fellow presidents disgusted thousands of men who see in labor demands one of the greatest dangers this country has to confront. But more than this, it has seemed almost as if they had deliberately undertaken to make themselves ridiculous before the people by their public utterances.—New York Evening Post.

This is severe, especially from so conservative a source as the Evening Post, which has no sympathy with organized labor. Yet it is probably mild as compared to some things Mr. Baer will have to hear behind the scenes. Of course it is not to be assumed that the practical men of large affairs were not correctly represented by the performances of Mr. Baer. For the time being he was their mouthpiece, and they had to "grin and bear it," but it is safe to predict that he will never again occupy such a position.—Gulton's Magazine.

The Employer's Mastery is Passing.

The industrial mastery of the employer is passing rapidly. Labor organizations and the laborers' improved condition are in fact destroying it. As a substitute for the old system it is inevitable that the employer must accept the fact and act toward the dealer in labor as he acts toward the dealer in raw material, making the best bargain with no favor but civility. A whole century of change has led from a system in which responsibility might be shirked by the master in oppression of a servant, by the servant in the hope of charitable aid from his master) to this better system of coordinate responsibilities definitely placed and not to be shirked without loss to the delinquent. The rise of the factory system with its much lamented severance of personal bonds between master and worker and the organization of labor which the factory system facilitated have contributed most to this fortunate revolution.—Amos P. Weston in Atlantic.

The Unequal Contest.

In England the fact that the house of lords had decided that a trades union man could be sued for damages for the acts of another may be used as an argument of employers in the greatest contest against labor ever known—not to collect damages, but to submit the workman to long and expensive litigation—the long purse against the short one.—Washington Post.

Died at Her Home in the Welsh Hills
Thursday at the Age of Eight-teen Years.

Miss Lena Price died at her home with Mrs. Thomas Price, on the Welsh Hills road, five miles northwest of Newark, on Thursday. She was aged about 18 years and the cause of her death was pulmonary trouble, from which she had been ailing since last spring. The deceased had been taken to raise by Mr. and Mrs. Price when she was an infant and she had lived with them ever since, until she seemed as one of the family. She was a very lovely and attractive girl, of unusual promise, and her untimely death will be sincerely mourned, not only by the immediate family but by her numerous friends. The funeral will take place from the late home of the deceased on Saturday afternoon at one o'clock and will be conducted by Rev. Bunyan Spencer, of Denison university, and interment will be made in the Welsh Hills cemetery.
